James Alfred Wight

- James Alfred Wight

(pen name James

Herriot)

was a British veterinary surgeon and writer

born in 1916.

- He used his many years of experiences as a veterinary surgeon to write a series of books each consisting of stories about animals and their owners.
- He is best known for these semi-autobiographical works, beginning with If Only They Could Talk in 1970, which spawned a series of movies and television series.
